His Reasons for Withdrawing from the Having understood from numerous sources that I have been charged with having declined my candidacy for Congress in favor of Gen. Goff, for a monied consideration, at the hands of Gen. Goff or his Congressional Committee, I hereby declare the same to be unqualifiedly false. The sole consideration which actuated me porting to be Republican tickets with Mr. Company, were at Pittsburgh yesterday entrap the unwary.

Mr. Caldwell is the regular Republican

He is session in this city on Thursday. the chosen representative of the party, regularly and fairly nominated in conference, and is only opposed by the getter up of these tickets for personal reasons. He is a gentleman exceptionally well fitted for the discharge of this office, of good mind, large experience, marked independence, unbending integrity, of prompt and thorough busines habits, and in all respects a gentleman of whom we may expect if elected Judge a record as creditable as that which thus fa in life has characterized his career as a citi zen, a soldier and a lawyer.

Wheeling, Oct. 10, 1882.

THETARIFF COMMISSION.

It Will be in Wheeling on Thursday. The U. S. Tariff Commission will arrive here to-morrow evening, and will hold a session at the McLure House the following day. They come here, as we have pre-viously stated, to hold a conference with leading representatives of our city indus-tries and with representatives from this tries and with representatives from this region on both sides of the river who may find Wheeling a convenient point of access to the Commission. They are here in order to inform themselves and be informed by others in regard to the wants and the wishes of this particular part of the comorder to inform themselves and be informed by others in regard to the wants and the wishes of this particular part of the country. We need not more than suggest that will be proper on the part of our leading business men, even if they have no views to present, to call upon the Commission as a matter of courtesy and hospitality. We trust that every respect of this character will be shown the members, as they are a body of men of recognized intelligence and character, selected to confer with the business men of the country at all leading points, hear their complaints and recommenda-ions and present them in a practical and authoritative form to the next session of Congress. Since their appointment in the early part of the summer they have been very busy, holding sessions every day in me part of the country, and they have gathered an immense volume of facts and figures, which they will present the appointed time along with their observations

We trust that the wool men, the iron men, the glass men, the pottery interest, and all other interests at or near this point will be represented here on Thursday, so that the situation here and hereabouts may be as perfectly understood as possible by the members of the Commission.

The Commission are at present at Pitts ourgh, and, as we said, will leave that point to morrow afternoon for Wheeling. From a sketch of them in vesterday's Pitts burgh Commercial we make the following

Eastern trade in wool has been quieter, owing partly to the tight money market which has checked active trading in its manufactures. Values are less buoyant, but hold very steady, and the lull in demand is likely to be of short duration.

The efforts made to keep the standard silver dollars in circulation continue to be unsuccessful. It appears that on the 2d inst. the Treasurer of the United States had on hand as assets $92,228,647 of these coins. The amount of assets of this kind reported on January 3d was $69,589,937. This is in increase for nine months of $22,537 to.

The war wiped out his extensive fortune, but since then by hard and shrewd work he has recovered his old financial standing. Hon, Robert P. Porter is the youngest member of the Commission. He is recognized in the United States and in Europe as a statistician of great reliability on all practical matters. A recent book from his pen, "The West during the Last Eighty Years," is attracting great attention in the East and in Europe. Hon. A. M. Garland is an Illinois farmer living near Springfeld, Ills. Practical and clear headed his services have been of great value. He is particularly well posted in matters pertaining to wool growing. Col. A. R. Boteler, of West Virginia, is a true type of the Old Dominion gentleman, Anold time Whig, he represented his district before the war, but when secession came and his State seceded, he went with her. He was a member of the Confederate Congress for one term and afterwards entered the army, serving under Stonewall Jackson and Gen. J. B. Stuart. His line, old-fashioned place, which had been in the family for many generations, and which was destroyed during the fighting in the Shenandoah valley, will be remembered by some of Allegheny county's veteran soldiers. The cause for this charge against me grew out of a facetious or jocular remark made to some two or three of my Democratic friends in private conversation in regard to my withdrawal.
